3. COMPENSATIONS

Legal compensations after service interruptions

The amount of statutory compensation is based on 2 different calculation methods. You always get the outcome with the highest amount.

Amount based on subscription value The amount consists of one thirtieth of the value of your subscription, multiplied by the number of days of the service interruption (subscription value/30 x number of days of the interruption). This is the price of... • the subscription that you pay for the interrupted service. • or the price of the entire bundle if the interrupted service is part of a bundle (and you therefore do not pay a separate price for that service). The subscription value does not include additional packages or bundles.	Fixed amount per day A compensation based on legal amounts. This compensation amounts to €1 for the first day on which the service interruption occurs (16-hour period following the first 8 hours of the interruption) For each day (24-hour period) that the interruption continues, we increase the compensation of the previous day by €1, and by €0.50 for each additional day. Example: • day 1: € 1 • day 2: € 1 + (€ 1 + € 0,5) = € 2,5 • day 3: € 2,5 + (€ 1 + € 0,5 + € 0,5) = € 4,5 • ...
